Rise Above the Mark (2014) is a documentary that brings to light the unfortunate realities of public education today. It chronicles the growing standardized testing epidemic that is hurting our children and diminishing true teaching and learning.

Join us for a screening of Rise Above the Mark, followed by a discussion with other concerned parents, teachers and community members.

Did you know:

- One point, on one test, on one day can cause a child to be held back in 3rd grade; parents have no legal recourse.
- For the first time, our youngest children will be subjected to standardized tests in Art, Music and Physical Education, solely for the purpose of ranking teachers.
- More high-stakes, standardized tests and test preparation materials cause financial stress for school districts already suffering from deep cuts in state funding.
